

2025 ECSA FUNDRAISING GOLF DAY

CONCEPT NOTE

The Engineering Council of South Africa (ECSA) will on 26 March 2025, host its inaugural Fundraising Golf Day at the Country Club Johannesburg - Woodmead.

Themed “Course for a Cause”, the event will bring together partners and stakeholders from various industries to contribute and collaborate towards creating opportunities for women in engineering, engineering students, registered engineering candidates and learners. The purpose of the fundraising Golf day is to:

Raise funds for engineering students, candidates, and STEM initiatives

The funds raised from this event will be directed towards initiatives focused on assisting financially challenged engineering students, candidates and empowering women in engineering as well as STEM projects through:

- Funding support through bursaries for financially challenged engineering students (tuition fees, study materials etc).
- STEM programmes initiated by high schools, universities, and industry.
- Workshops and training programmes promoting STEM, diversity, and inclusion.
- Community outreach programmes inspiring young girls to pursue engineering careers.

Foster Collaboration between industries for a greater cause

We aim to highlight the importance of collaboration between industries to invest in our communities.

Strengthen relationships and provide networking opportunities

The golf day will serve as a platform to establish and solidify relationships with our stakeholders. It also provides an invaluable opportunity for networking among industry role players, facilitating meaningful connections and collaborations.
