1. BACKGROUND

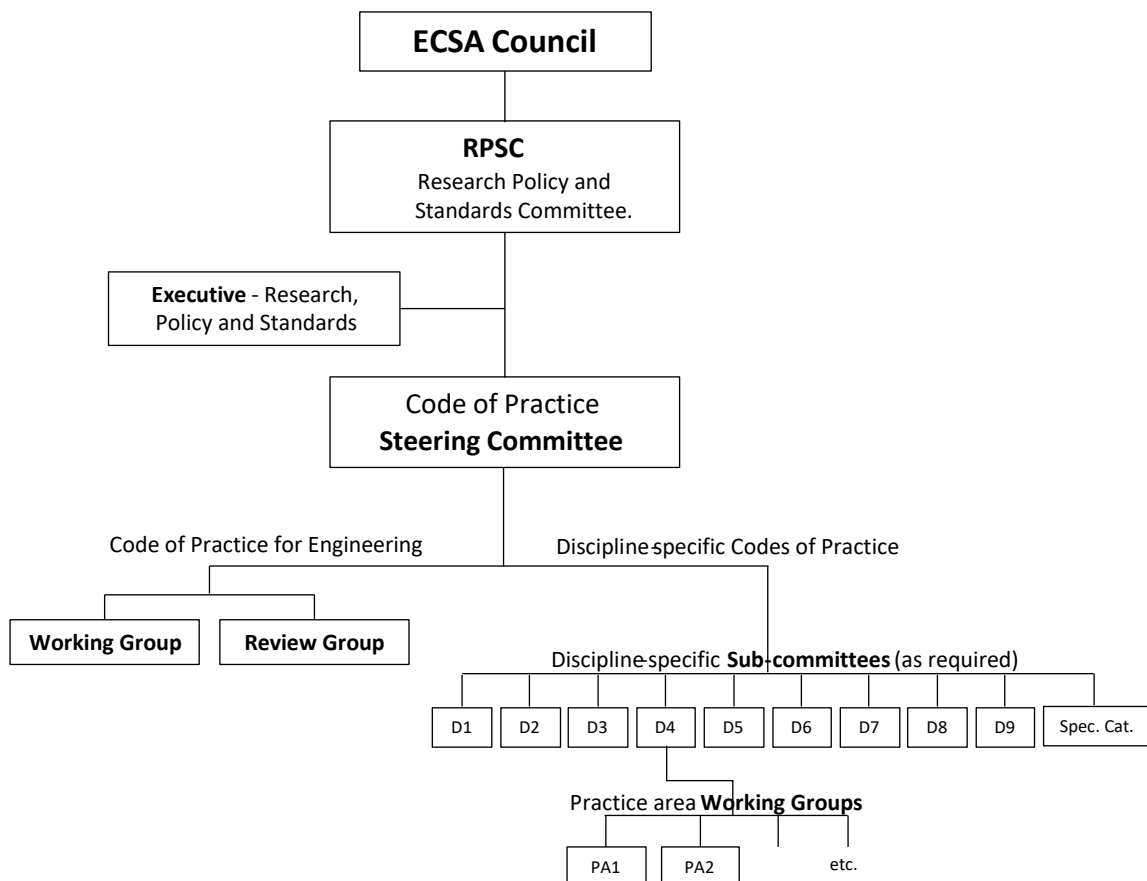

This document should be read in conjunction with the Policy Framework for the drafting of ECSA Codes of Conduct.

This document sets out steps to be taken to get the process of drafting ECSA codes of practice underway.

2. ORGANISATION

2.1 Structure

The organisational structure for the development of codes of practice is shown in Figure 1.

Notes:

- D1 – D9 are the nine disciplines of engineering covered by ECSA, namely Aeronautical, Agricultural, Chemical, Civil, Electrical, Industrial, Mechanical, Metallurgical and Mining Engineering.
- Spec. Cat. is Special Categories of Registration, e.g. Lifting Machinery Inspectors.
- PA1, PA2, etc. are practice areas within a discipline, e.g. the Structural Engineering practice area in the discipline of Civil Engineering.
